Hope carries us forward. Emmaus Café reminds us that every kind word and shared moment strengthens hope, echoing the hope restored on the road to Emmaus. "Let us hold fast to the hope we profess." (Hebrews 10:23)

Cork Cathedral Family of Parishes Launches Climate Justice Education Project

The Cork Cathedral Family of Parishes was delighted to officially launch its Climate Justice Education Project, bringing together members of our parishes, community organisations and invited guests for a morning of reflection, discussion and shared commitment to caring for our common home.

Introducing Lay Funeral Ministers

We still value having our funerals over several days, we appreciate the effort our neighbours make to come to the funeral home to sympathise, we look for a funeral Mass which acknowledges the personality of the deceased person and their relationships, not just a generic church service to pray for them.

To assist parishioners keep our funerals as we like to have them, our north-side parishes will introduce lay ministers as part of a funeral team with the clergy.

Initially these lay funeral ministers will lead the bereaved in prayer the night before the funeral Mass, usually in the funeral home, as priests used to do before Covid. Many of us have missed that moment of prayer with the priest and so we will re-introduce it with the lay ministers.

In time, the lay funeral ministers will be available to families to begin preparing the funeral Mass with the diocesan booklet of readings, prayers and hymns.

Later, they may be present at the funeral Mass and be of help there. We're not sure when priests will begin to be unavailable for all the burial services in the cemeteries, but it is worth preparing for that eventuality sooner rather than later.

A number of parishioners have already been approached to consider taking on this rewarding ministry. They will be trained over several weeks by the diocese and then begin working alongside the clergy of our parishes. We are all aware of the lay funeral ministers already operating in Farranree, around The Lough and Togher.

We know you will appreciate the ministry of lay funeral ministers alongside the ministry of the priests and deacons, representing the parish by leading mourners and their neighbours, family and friends, in prayer the night before the funeral Mass.

While we are beginning with the three northside parishes which have approximately 166 funerals of parishioners each year - the cathedral, Blackpool with the Glen and Ballyvolane, Sunday's Well - in time, we will extend this valuable ministry to the other parishes in our family of parishes. Please keep your fellow parishioners in prayer as they prepare to serve in our parishes. The initial meeting for those already approached to consider this ministry will be on Wednesday 30th September at 7pm in the Cathedral Visitor Centre. The diocesan training will be on three consecutive Wednesdays nights: 14th, 21st, and 28th October. Venue to be decided.

CATHEDRAL FAMILY OF PARISHES SYRO-MALABAR CATHOLIC COMMUNITY

ST. BRENDAN'S CHURCH

Our Syro-Malabar Catholic Church Community in Cork has been celebrating Holy Qurbana and conducting Catechism classes at SMA Wilton Church for many years.

We are pleased to announce that, through the kind consideration, vision and guidance of Bishop Fintan Gavin, we have now been granted permission to celebrate our Holy Qurbana at St. Brendan's Roman Catholic Church, The Glen, and to conduct our Catechism classes at the school located adjacent to the church.

Going forward, our regular Sunday schedule will be:

- 3:30 PM – Catechism Classes
- 5:00 PM – Holy Qurbana

We would like to express our sincere and heartfelt gratitude to Bishop Fintan Gavin for inviting and welcoming our community to St. Brendan's and for making this new arrangement possible.

We are also deeply grateful to Fr. John, who has provided us with valuable assistance and support throughout this process.

Our heartfelt thanks also go to all the parishioners of St. Brendan's Church of Blackpool, Glen, Ballyvolane Parish for their warm and gracious welcome to our community. We truly appreciate their kindness, generosity and support as we begin this new chapter together.
