On St. Patrick's Day, we call to mind an unbroken tradition of faith in our diocese, our city and our country, said Bishop Fintan Gavin

Mass for St. Patrick's Day was celebrated at the Cathedral of St. Mary and St. Anne, Cork by Bishop Fintan.

The congregation included the Lord Mayor of Cork, Cllr. Fergal Dennehy, the Lady Mayoress, Karen Brennan; the Chief Executive of Cork City Council, Valerie O'Sullivan; the Lord Mayor of the City of Coventry, Cllr Rachel Lancaster and members of Cork City Council.

In his homily at the Mass, Bishop Fintan said that St. Patrick didn't only bring the Christian faith to Ireland.

"That faith has helped to shape the values that became part of Irish identity — a sense of community, care for the vulnerable, hospitality to the stranger and an awareness of God in everyday life."

Reflection

Lent calls us to turn back, forgive, and choose kindness. Here at Emmaus Café, each small act of care, like the disciples' recognition of Christ, becomes a moment of God's love shining through. "Return to the Lord your God." (Joel 2:13)
